About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

FOLSOM PACKS 'EM IN

I have been hearing and reading about how "Big Jim" Folsom, Elba's tallest and most publicized native son, has been building school houses, auditoriums and other public meeting places with widely cheering people from all walks of life who came to hear and see him in about his campaign for a second whack at the governorship of Alabama.

Seeing is believing so when "Big Jim" was advertised to talk at Spring Hill last Thursday, I availed myself of the opportunity to see and hear for myself. When our party arrived at Spring Hill quite awhile before starting time, parking spaces and traffic lanes in the vicinity of the school house were clogged and the school auditorium seating capacity was already exhausted.

People kept crowding in until the walls were lined with standing persons, and the doors and halls were jammed. Many persons remained outside the school house.

The Corn Grinders entertaining the crowd with hill billy music. When "Big Jim" entered there was loud applause.

Unlike some of the speakers I have heard him deliver in past years, he did not resort to any strenuous oratorical efforts, but explained his platform in a plain, easy-to-understand manner that was pleasing, interesting and convincing.

Folsom outlined his platform briefly, stressing his advocacy of more roads, better pay for school teachers, more aid for elderly people, reappointment in the legislature and assured everyone a hearty welcome at the government's office.

The crowd enjoyed his remarks that he had six children, and figured on having six more.

"Big Jim" stated that after he had a hard fight to win the race, 24,000 names were lapped around the old damby scored 22 points for New Hope, Kelley 13 and Downing 13.

Alabama and he promised to look with 10, put up a real scrap. Led by Clint Week's 13 points and Nelson's 10, the Bulldogs went out of the governor's office.

In the semi-finals New Hope defeated Kinston by a narrow margin. The Bulldogs outlasted their opponents to a 41-29 verdict. Pen- cock scored 12 points for the winners and Gillis 10 for the losers.

In the first round New Hope 76, Zion Chapel 49; Kinston 60, Mt. Pleasant 34; Goodman 42, Curtis 37; Elba 49, Pine Level 41; New Brockton 59, Basin 37.

Tigers Swamp Opp to Win 15th Straight
Opp started off strong and played the Tigers on even terms the first half. But they tired in the third quarter as the Elbas turned the last half into a rout.

One of the important factors of the Tigers' outstanding success is their fine physical condition and stamina.

In game after game, Elba has held the opposition to at least even terms during the early periods and by the speed have worn out and crushed the foe with strong finishes.

Elba lineup: Marler 3, Hudson 17, Powell 25, Danford 12, Reeves 3, Hamm 2, Jacobs 22, Bowers 9, Ellis 6, McDaniel 0.

Be lineup: Bower 12, Hudson 2, McCall 3, Smith 2, Dye 2, Brown 1, White 16, Dyes 14.

In a preliminary game starting at 6 o'clock the Elba juniors won over Curtis, 47-37 in a hard fought contest.

The Tigers will go to Eufaula to Mr. Pierce.

In any rate, white settlers in the region banded together for a retaliatory raid against the Indians. In the ensuing fight an unknown number of Redskins bit the dust while the rest fled.

Coming back later they asked for and received permission from the dead, packed down and more dead put on top. This was done until an "Indian mound" was formed.

Digging into the Indian mound near the old Hollis Ferry, Mr. Pierce said he uncovered what were probably the skeletons of the scalping party.

Information on this almost forgotten incident in Coffee County history came to Mr. Pierce from Frank Holley, an old timer in Macedonia community who died several years ago at the age of 80. Mr. Holley gave his source of information on the raid as his grandfather, Although there is no written evidence of the scalping party, the Fairview principle believes it is authentic because bones and other items discovered in the mound bear out the story.

First lead Mr. Pierce obtained about the raid came from Frank Holley's grandson. At that time Mr. Pierce was teaching the boy in a class at Macedonia school. After verifying the boy's story and finding the Indian mound, the Fairview principal did some excavating. As a result he has some excellently preserved pieces of Indian pottery and a well-polished to mow hawk that might have been used on the scalps of early Coffee County settlers.

In explaining how the Indians buried their dead, Mr. Pierce said they did not dig a hole in the ground. Instead they would take a layer of sand and pack it down with their feet. On this they would lay their dead and cover them with dirt. Another covering of sand was put on top.

A heavy growth of vegetation covers this Indian mound near the concrete bridge on the Fairview-Kinston Road. Two students of Fairview school are shown on the mound.

Robert Stephens, Ben Conner, Announce
In this issue of The Clipper will be found the announcement of Ben F. Conner's candidacy for the office of Tax Collector of Coffee County.

Ben F. Conner is a native of Coffee County, born at Clintonsville in 1894, and has lived at Mount Pleasant, B. Conner Sr. was elected Tax Collector of Coffee County, the last time 50 years ago.

Mr. Conner is a member of the Baptist Church and is a member of the Coffee County Tax Collector's Association.

Zelma Devane Bows Out
The field of four in the hot race for Coffee County Tax Collector was whittled down to three Wednesday when Zelma M. Devane withdrew from the contest in anticipation of entering private business.

Her sudden withdrawal leaves Robert Stephens and Ben F. Conner in a three-way fight for the job. Rumors of other entries have been heard but nothing official can be announced at press time. Text of Mrs. Devane's letter of withdrawal reads:

TO THE VOTERS OF COFFEE COUNTY:
During the years I have served you as your Tax Collector I have come to appreciate the duty of my office, and the feeling of my father, the late J. J. Morrow, who I so often heard express that it was a "pleasure and privilege" to serve the people of Coffee County.

It has truly been a pleasure and privilege to serve you these past five years in this capacity.

On January 30, when the County Democratic Executive Committee met I quite frankly stated to the members of the committee that I was not qualified to run for reelection. For some time I have been interested in and looking forward to entering a private business. At the time I qualified for reelection, it was my opinion that my business interest would not develop for a number of years. Since that time, however, it has become apparent that those plans should be completed before the expiration of my term if I should be elected, making it impossible to devote full time to the office as I have always done.

Therefore, I have determined that in fairness to the voters and to everyone who contemplates making business interest a qualification to run for reelection, I should withdraw my candidacy at this time before time for qualifying expires, and to release my friends from the pledge of their support to me.

Today my letter of withdrawal from the race has been forwarded to the County Democratic Executive Committee.

Again I wish to express my affection, thanks and deep appreciation for the expression of your confidence in permitting me to serve you so pleasantly as Tax Collector.

To you I shall always be grateful.

Record Forest Fires Damage Woodland

Robert Smith, county forest ranger, reported Monday that during the first half of February 14 fires have burned over an estimated $4333 damage.

Already there have been more forest fires in his district this month than ever before in any 30-day period. He stated that most of the fires could have been prevented and urged owners of woodlands, and other persons exercising care against setting fires, especially during dry weather.

A large majority of people are showing fine cooperation in the fight of fire prevention, but the comparative few carelessness persons are responsible for damage running into thousands of dollars, Smith said.

BARN DAMAGED
A barn on the rear of Dick Brown's lot on Addison Street was damaged by fire Monday afternoon. The fire department put out the fire which caught in the roof with only small damage.

GRASS FIRE FRIDAY
A grass fire Friday afternoon in the rear of the C. O. Miller home on Sunset Boulevard did only slight damage.

WIND CHANGE DOES DAMAGE
A fire which started in the rear of the home of Mr. N. B. Crestwell on Smith Avenue Saturday morning swept over a wide area.

When the blaze was first noticed, Patrolman Clarence Parker carried two members of the fire department to the blaze and Frazier Alday was already there. They had the flames under control when a shift in wind caused the flames to jump the fire lane and sweep through Mrs. Gene Vaughn's tennis house and outbuildings. When first found, the fire was in a "cat-in-the-hat" position for the fire trucks to reach. It had the flames would not have reached Mrs. Vaughn's property.

At this point the fire alarm was sounded and the department turned out to prevent the flames from spreading westward. Vaughn's tennis house and outbuildings. When first found, the fire was in a "cat-in-the-hat" position for the fire trucks to reach. It had the flames would not have reached Mrs. Vaughn's property.

Bill Stokes Seeks Re-election to House of Representatives
Jackson W. (Bill) Stokes started active campaigning for reelection as a representative in the state legislature last week with the filing of his announcement. Born and reared near Pine Level, he is the son of Mr. & Mrs. J. M. Stokes.

A graduate of Pine Level grammar school, Mr. Stokes attended Brantley High School, Troy State Law School from which he was graduated in February, 1952.

I feel that in the interests of Coffee County, that the representative should be a man of the program of the governor where ever practical, and the interests of the people are to be served.

Mr. Stokes is a member of the Methodist Church, Junior Chamber of Commerce, is an Apprentice Mason, teacher in the Young Adult Class at the Methodist Church.

Again I wish to express my affection, thanks and deep appreciation for the expression of your confidence in permitting me to serve you so pleasantly as Tax Collector.

To you I shall always be grateful.

Spirits of Renegade Indians Inhabit Showcase at Fairview
By Paul Cunningham
Spirits of renegade Indians with the scalps of early Coffee County settlers on their belts inhabit a show case at Fairview, a place belonging to Woodward, a place belonging to Woodward, a place belonging to Woodward.

According to information assembled by Mr. Pierce, Indians aided the home of white settlers near Hollis Ferry about 1000. Out of a family of eight, seven were killed. By following the trail of the Indians, the settlers, a girl in the family escaped with her life but lost part of her scalp.

Longtime residents of Macedonia community will point out an unmarked plot in the Week's Assembly of God Church cemetery where the seven victims of the raid are supposed to be buried.

Reason for the raid is not definitely known. But at this time in our history, the Spaniards in Florida were not friendly with the United States and they often hired Indians to do the dirty work. This could have been the background for the scalping party at Hollis Ferry, according to Mr. Pierce.

In any rate, white settlers in the region banded together for a retaliatory raid against the Indians. In the ensuing fight an unknown number of Redskins bit the dust while the rest fled.

Coming back later they asked for and received permission from the dead, packed down and more dead put on top. This was done until an "Indian mound" was formed.

Ford's New Ball-Joint Suspension gives you the Newest Ride on the Road!

This revolutionary new Ford front suspension soaks up road shock before it reaches you! Makes all riding and handling easier!

The "old" roads won't seem the same with Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way for you. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is far better, too, not only on turns but on the straightaways as well. That's because conventional Kingpins have been replaced by simple, sealed ball joints that won't stick or bind. No other car in Ford's field can equal this modern ride—because no other has Ball-Joint Suspension.

Agile new performance, too, is in a '54 Ford. Whether you choose Ford's new 130-hp, V-8 or 115-hp, 140-hp, 160-hp, you get the quick response and smooth, quiet operation of a modern overhead valve, low-friction deep-block engine. And no matter which of Ford's 25 new models you choose you enjoy recognized style leadership—with clean, modern lines... sparkling new colors... and harmonizing upholstery fabrics and trim.

Seals out dirt. You can forget road splash because dirt and water can't get into the ball joints. Ford's new front suspension. Each of the four joints is effectively sealed by a unique rubber-and-metal shield. This means that contact surfaces of each ball and socket remain clean—wear is kept to a minimum.

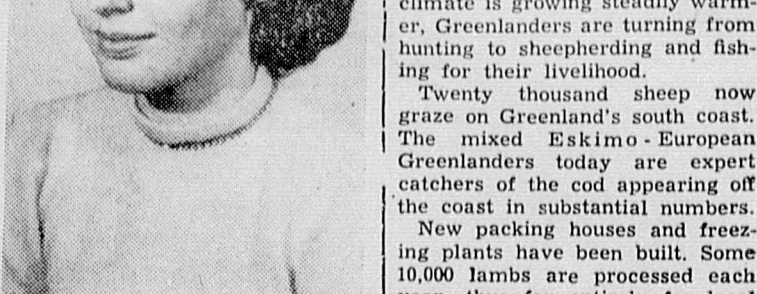

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

CANNON MOTOR CO.

SALES IIBA, ALA. SERVICE

Eliminates 12 wear points. Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension eliminates 12 of 14 points of wear in conventional systems. Rubber-bushed supports at inner ends of suspension control arms not only reduce the number of wear points but also insulate chassis from road noises.

Antelope Hunting Increases in West

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Antelope hunting has increased greatly in Wyoming and Montana in recent years. In 1953 Wyoming issued permits for the taking of 45,890 animals and Montana 17,845.

Antelope are fast, hard to kill, good to eat and are beautiful trophies. The thrill of hunting these beautiful creatures is enhanced by the clear blue Western skies and rolling purple sage plains.

Pronouns are plains animals and do not require extensive pack trips, excessive walking or climbing as is often the case in the hunting of such animals as deer, goats, sheep or bear.

Any deer rifle will bag antelope, although fast shooting scope sighted rifles are preferred.

The Doughtnut

MONTPELIER, Vt. — Isabel Gregory Bailey, 87, contends that her father, Capt. Hans Gregory, "invented" the doughnut by accident one stormy night at sea in 1847.

He went into the galley for a snack and picked up a few plain round cakes the cook had made. But he found they weren't cooked through the middle, so he grabbed a belying pin and knocked the soggy part, making the first doughnut with the hole in the middle.

Greenlanders Turn From Seal Hunting To Raising Sheep

WASHINGTON — Because their climate is growing steadily warmer, Greenlanders are turning from hunting to sheepherding and fishing for their livelihood.

Twenty thousand sheep now graze on Greenland's south coast. The mixed Eskimo-European Greenlanders today are expert catchers of the cod appearing off the coast in substantial numbers. New packing houses and freezing plants have been built. Some 10,000 lambs are processed each year, thus far entirely for local consumption.

It is a drastic change for the 22,000 Greenlanders, most of whom live in the southwest of the Danish island. Once these people lived entirely by the harpoon and spear, killing walrus, narwhals, whales, polar bears and above all, seals.

The seal kill alone amounted to 50 per person annually. Now the seal herds have followed the cold water northward, and the kill is down to two for each inhabitant.

The raising of livestock is nothing new in Greenland, recently proclaimed an integral part of the Danish kingdom. More than 1,000 years ago, during another warm period, Viking settlers raised cattle and even tilled the ground.

Some farms of 1933 are built on long abandoned Viking homesteads. Other pastures originally cropped by Viking herds allow Greenlanders willing to abandon traditional seaside homes for sites farther inland.

'Strong Man' Forced To Replace Tree

BALTIMORE — Milton Michael Weiner was taken to court recently and told to replace a tree that he took apart with his bare hands in a demonstration of his tremendous strength.

Weiner, 35, stands about 6 feet 2, and weighs 180 pounds.

He told Magistrate E. Everett Lane he stripped the branches off the tree to demonstrate to a crowd of 350 spectators that you don't have to drink, smoke, or gamble to be a man.

Witnesses claimed that Weiner is indeed a man. One said Weiner could snap a steel chain with his hands. Others said he could carry a railway tie around with his fingers. Another said, "Milton has the strength of a hundred maniacs."

Weiner, himself, modestly admitted a New Jersey prize fighter once told him he had "twice the punch of Joe Louis."

"I'll tear up a tree by the roots and transplant it in the park," Weiner said. "Or I'll dig one up with a shovel."

Two Cars Can Be Parked on Same Meter

PHILADELPHIA — Maxwell Corson, 27 years old, was hailed before a magistrate in Philadelphia after he and a friend, Herbert Berkowitz, had placed their small foreign-made cars in a parking-meter spot.

They had been doing it for a week, sharing the meter cost, until a traffic policeman decided that Mr. Corson's car, which was parked behind the meter, was parked illegally.

Mr. Corson said he had examined state and local motor vehicle laws and could not find where he had violated the law.

"A vehicle that takes up two spaces has to pay double," he said, "but there's nothing in the books saying two cars occupying only one space have to pay double."

The magistrate dismissed the case.

HERE'S WHAT MADE THE DIFFERENCE

Pigs were taken from sows at the Purina Research Farm when 6 weeks old. One bunch got corn, oats and alfalfa meal. The others ate only Purina Pig Starnena and water. The Pig Starnena-fed bunch averaged 64 pounds per pig heavier than the other bunch. Abundantly fortified with growth boosters, Pig Starnena helps pigs make fast growth at low cost. Industrial Boom Sparks Finland In Postwar Years

FINLAND — With Finland's basic economy shifting from agriculture to industry in postwar years, tens of thousands of Finnish citizens have forsaken farms and flocks to the factories.

A vigorous metal industry, employing 80,000 workers, double the number in 1939. The shipbuilding industry has six times the capacity of 1944. Half of the country's engaged in industrial pursuits, compared with less than one-fourth fifty years ago. Helsinki, Tampere and other Finnish cities are crowded with former rural residents.

Forests—Finland's "green gold"—are still the nation's major asset, says the National Geographic Society. Lumber, plywood, pulp, paper, and prefabricated houses are leading exports. Over 75,000 are employed in wood-working plants.

Nearly three-fourths of the nation's 130,182 square miles are forested, mainly in spruce, pine and birch. The land, one-and-one-half times the size of Great Britain and slightly larger than New Mexico, contains more than 60,000 lakes.

There are only 7.5 million acres of arable land, against 54 million in the United States. Agricultural production has always been low. Much of the country's soil is rocky and barren. Finland is the climatic limit for cultivation of grains. To earn extra money to meet higher living costs, whole farm families work at factory and forestry jobs during the winter and other slack farm seasons.

High School Grads More Alert Today

MINNEAPOLIS — Employers rate present-day high school graduates sharply higher in alertness, learning ability, self-confidence and maturity, compared with graduates of ten or twenty years ago.

These are the chief strong points of youthful job-holders brought out in a survey of employment agencies by the family economics bureau of an insurance company.

But the greater potentialities are more poorly developed and applied today, employers tell the placement agencies. There are shining exceptions, of course, but an astonishing proportion of the current grads can't spell, can't punctuate, can't do percentages or other simple arithmetic, the agencies report. Too many are unreliable; too many have no interest in doing a good day's work, and don't. Too many have inflated ideas of their worth in terms of starting salaries. These are the chief criticisms cited in replies to the survey, which asked employment agency executives to list the strong points and the weak points of the typical present-day high school graduate on the job, as brought out by the experience of employer-clients.

Zaar Region Is Heaviest Populated

WASHINGTON — Europe's most densely populated region is the coal-rich Saar on the Franco-German border.

Levelled by wartime bombing and shelling, Saar industry is again operating at capacity. Over 16,000,000 tons of coal were mined last year. Reserves are estimated at more than five billion tons, enough for three centuries. Its six huge steel mills produce 3,000,000 tons of steel annually.

Total production in 1952 was valued at $539 million, one-third higher than in 1938, the previous peak.

Some 70,000 workers, a fourth of the total Saar labor force, produce 7 per cent of the steel of "Little Europe," the six-nation group that pools its output under the Schuman Plan.

50 Years Ago in Elba

By C. B. McElwain

Last Friday W. F. Pugh, a convict guard of the Henderson Lumber Co. at Richburg, was killed by a falling tree. He was in the woods with a convict-gang cutting down trees when a tree fell on him, killing him almost instantly. The convicts lifted the tree off his body and secured aid from another gang nearby, making no effort to escape. Mr. Pugh had been at Richburg a short time, his home being in Ansel in Pike county, to which place his remains were shipped Saturday.

Would you trade a Penny for a Dollar?

You can if you use Natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda for your top-dressing and side-dressing needs. It costs a little more because it's worth more. But the difference in cost usually can be measured in pennies per acre, while the difference in value often amounts to dollars per acre.

Chilean "Bulldog" Soda gives you generous extra value. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate. It's 100 per cent available (quick-acting); 100 per cent dependable. The minor elements make crops stronger, healthier. The sodium—20 pounds in every 100-pound sack—is a key to maximum returns on your entire fertilizer investment. It offsets the bad effects of acid-forming fertilizers... increases the efficiency of mixed fertilizers containing them. It releases "locked-up" potash in the soil... increases the availability and efficiency of soil phosphate... reduces potash, calcium and magnesium losses by leaching... develops larger, deeper root systems.

Sodium builds up the productivity of your land—more each year. It's an essential element for more crops... beneficial to most and necessary for maximum yields of many.

Pennies-per-acre difference in cost may mean dollars-per-acre difference in value to you. Chilean "Bulldog" Soda is the best fertilizer you can buy. Use it for all of your top-dressing and side-dressing needs.

Well-timed silence is more eloquent than speech—and most silence is well-timed.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By HOLLAND & KILGUS

I have my land ready to plant bahia grass, commented L. L. Ballard of Perry's Store community, last week. He prepared the seed bed by breaking and applying lime and fertilizer. The fertilizer and lime was disked into the soil. After the land is well settled, seeding will be done. The seed will be drilled with a grain drill at the rate of 15 pounds of bahia grass seed per acre.

Bahia grass is a miracle grass for this section. It will provide as much or more grazing than any other plant in this area. It is easy to establish and will not become a pest. C. J. Meeks of Basin says that he had to borrow some of his bahia grass to eat part of his bahia grass.

J. W. Grimes of Danley Cross Roads says that his bahia grass was green and furnishing grazing last summer when it was so dry bermuda would not grow.

It's a safe bet that the man who is around asking for sympathy will make bad use of it.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

For He is not a God of the dead but of the living: for all live unto Him. (St. Luke 20, 38.)

God is the very air we breathe, the food we eat; the birds that sing, the flowers that bloom, the sun, the moon and the stars. All that there is of love and compassion, of intelligence and strength, is the ever-present, the ever-living God. If we live not unto Him we live not at all, but merely exist.

To many the leaps of impulse are considerably greater than the bounds of reason.

Naturally spanking doesn't help much in this soft-handed age.

WATER ASSUMING CRITICAL IMPORTANCE
Factor affecting industrial location in the country as a whole, a paper read to the National Conference on Resources for the Future, smaller proportion of new industry "unless large quantities of cheap water can be made available for manufacturing and other industrial uses."
Water, and plenty of it, seems to be the only thing that should actively seek industries that use a lot of water. The biggest industrial users of water are steam electric generating plants, steel mills, chemical plants, petroleum refineries, wood and paper mills and synthetic rubber plants.
A small dam run over a period of several months in trade journals for these industries might bring amazing results. At least it could do no harm. And people would feel a lot better knowing that concrete action is being taken to put Elba on the map.

SPARKMAN IN FOR A "BATTLE"
Overshadowed by the governor's race but coming into increasingly sharp focus is the coming fight for John Sparkman's seat in the Senate. Laurie Battle, a four-time winner in the Congressional ninth district, looks as the man who will give the 1952 Democratic vice-presidential nominee the most trouble.
What has hurt Sparkman is his record on Civil Rights—where he said one thing in Harlem in 1952 and another in Alabama. Coffee County voters remember this and it is bound to cost the Senator a lot of ballots in the May 4 primary. This race will probably go into a runoff with Sparkman fighting for his political life. This corner is going to cast its vote and influence for Laurie Battle.
